Contact and Locate — the information you need from a source you can trust

Accurate, up to date information from a source you can trust. Keeping up with the correct and most recent information is challenging for most organizations. Equifax is a leader in data and has access to the information you need to solve your business challenges. Contact and Locate will help you with multiple use cases by providing accurate, up to date information from a source you know you can trust.

What information will Contact and Locate provide?

Contact and Locate will focus on two key areas of information including Address and Phone. Each of these categories will have three types of information available through Contact and Locate.

- 1. Address/Phone List: This is a non-curated list of the information available. The list is provided so that you can see all that Contact & Locate sees.
- 2. Address/Phone History: History information is a curated version of the List. In this scenario the information is placed in a chronological order.
- 3. Address/Phone Insights: Insights are additional information that could prove meaningful to help your use case.
